Private ownership, Germany.

Ingvar Bergström recognized the present painting in 1993 as a previously unknown work with the characteristics of Flegel's work and carefully dates it to his early years. Sam Segal also judges it to be an authentic work, which he places in proximity to examples of Flegel's work in Prague and Nuremberg, for example, through the soft manner of the bird. Anne-Dore Ketelsen-Volkhardt in turn carefully compares it with the Karlsruhe version of a pantry, which she lists in her catalog raisonné under the catalog number 73.

Estimate: 8.000 € - 10.000 €; Hammer: 7.500 €
