PORCELAIN FIGURINES OF UPPER BAVARIAN SCHUHPLATTLER COUPLE.

Meissen.

Date: Before 1924.

Maker/Designer: Models by H. Spieler 1897/1898.

Technique: Porcelain, enriched in colours and once scarcely in gold.

Description: Male and female Schuhplattler in detailed, Upper Bavarian traditional clothing. Shown with lively poses while dancing. Both on flat round pedestal with floorboards and tree trunk support.

Measurement: Height 18,5cm / 14cm.

Mark: Swordsmark, Q190t/Q190u, porcelain former no. 77/123?, both with painter's no. 51.

The Upper Bavarian dancing couple originates from a series of 22 traditional costume figurines, which the manufactory acquired between 1897 and 1898 from the sculptor and medalist Hugo Spieler, who at that time held a professorship at the School of Arts and Crafts in Dresden. In the series, traditional attires from all over Germany are illustrated with great attention to detail.

Estimate: 1.500 € - 1.800 €; Hammer: 1.500 €
