LARGE MAGNIFICENT PENDULUM CLOCK WITH ELEPHANT AND ALLEGORY OF ASIA.

Le Roy, Julien. Paris

Date: Mid 19th century.

Maker/Designer: Porcelain Samson, Paris.

Technique: Porcelain, decorated with colours. Fire-gilt bronze, and others.

Description: Oval base, openwork décor with rocailles and blossoms. On the upside naturalistically designed with plants and soil. On top a large elephant carrying the elaborately designed clock case on its back like a richly decorated saddle. The case with seashell décor and flower tendrils, crowned by the allegory of Asia in the form of a woman in oriental garments, with sceptre and censer. The dial with Roman numerals in blue and Arabic minute track in black. 14-day pendulum movement with spring suspension and half-hour strike on bell.

Measurement: 76,5x46x27cm.

Mark: Elephant with mark in the manner of Meissen. Dial inscr. "Julien Le Roy A Paris" (presumably Paris, 90, rue de Vaugirard 1820, Tardy p.406), movement inscr. "G.D.".

Enclosed: P&K.

Estimate: 25.000 € - 30.000 €
