LARGE ENSEMBLES TRITON AND NAIAD.

Aelteste Volkstedter Porcelain Manufactory. Volkstedt. Rudolstadt-Volkstedt.

Date: 1915-1934.

Maker/Designer: Models Gustav Oppel.

Technique: Porcelain, decorated with colors.

Measurement: Height each ca. 39cm, length ca. 42cm.

Mark: Manufactory mark in underglaze blue, "Gustav Oppel" impressed.

Pendants of a naiad on a hippocamp and a triton with putto.

The Triton, a hybrid of human torso and fish tail, son of the god Poseidon, carries a large shell on his left shoulder. His head is adorned by a crown of reeds. On one of his two fish tails, which replaces his right leg, sits a small putto. His lap covered with a draped shawl.

The naiad, following the ancient Greek depiction, on the back of a hippocampus. Draped around her shoulders and waist is a purple shawl. Her red hair is moved by the wind.

Both porcelain ensembles on round pedestals that have waves crashing up on them.

Estimate: 3.000 € - 4.000 €; Hammer: 2.800 €
