

Lot 107

Auction Decorative Art

Date 15.11.2023, ca. 12:20

Preview 10.11.2023 - 10:00:00 bis
13.11.2023 - 18:00:00

LARGE TRIPLE CASED COACH CLOCK FOR THE OTTOMAN MARKET.

de St. Leu, Daniel. London

Date: Silver case William West. London. 1785.

Technique: Silver, tortoise shell, walnut, welded steel, accromatic glass amongst others.

Description: Overall three cases starting with one hinged wooden case with fine ornamental inlays, verso Arabic characters and in the lid ligated monogram "DL". Another case jacket with tortoise shell and floral silver piquet as well as sound holes along the rims. The case jacket that was worked with silver with floral climbers worked à jour and verso with finely engraved pedicels. Enamel dial with turquoise numerals as well as change adorned with white and pink rhinestones, welded steel hands. The movement between two gilded brass plates, the back panel signed "3512 Daniel De S.Leu Watchmaker to her Majesty London". Train made of brass, verge movement with circular balance, spring balance with chain and fusee. Bell mounted in the case bottom. Petite Sonnerie striking quarter hours and full hours. Chatelaine with winding key.

Measurement: Length 16cm, Ø 11,5. Length Chatelaine 49,5cm.

Mark: On dial inscr. "De St. Leu London". Silver case inspection mark for London 1785, maker's mark "WW" presumably for William West, Jerusalem Court, St. John's Square.

Provenance:

Private collection North Rhine-Westphalia, purchased Mentnik & Roest, 1994.

Estimate: 8.000 € - 12.000 €; Hammer: 10.000 €

